

In this Issue

Reflections on international law and transitional justice

- P. 1 Toward the Consolidation of Justice for International Crimes in Latin America: From Constitutional Debate to Criminal Cases
Ximena Medellín
- P. 8 Transitional Justice and Violations of Economic, Social, and Cultural Rights
Clara Sandoval
- P. 10 The wheels of international criminal justice grind slowly for Hissène Habré
Max du Plessis
- P. 13 Transitional justice has a new United Nations thematic rapporteurship
Team DPLF

Truth and justice processes in Latin America

Argentina

- P. 15 New Challenges in the Process of Justice for Crimes against Humanity in Argentina: Civilian Complicity and Crimes against Sexual Integrity
Gastón Chillier and Lorena Balardini

Brazil

- P. 18 Accountability for Gross Human Rights Violations in Brazil: The Araguaia Case and Its Repercussions
Leonardo Jun Ferreira Hidaka

Chile

- P. 22 Human Rights Trials in Chile 15 Years after the Pinochet Case
Cath Collins

Colombia

- P. 26 Transitional Justice and the Peace Process in Colombia
Rodrigo Uprimny, Luz María Sánchez, and Nelson Camilo Sánchez
- P. 28 A Legal Framework for Peace with Justice in Colombia
Gustavo Gallón

- P. 30 Is There an Institutional Policy in Colombia that Acknowledges the Memory of the Victims of the Conflict?
Camila de Gamboa

Ecuador

- P. 33 From the Truth Commission to Criminal Justice in Ecuador: Still a Long Way to Go
César Duque
- P. 35 Unfinished Reconciliation: The Process of Bringing Cases from Ecuador's Truth Commission to Court
Juan Pablo Albán

El Salvador

- P. 38 Challenges to justice in El Salvador: Is the Amnesty Law an obstacle to the prosecution of acts committed during the armed conflict?
Leonor Arteaga

Guatemala

- P. 42 The Trial of Ríos Montt
Naomi Roht-Arriaza
- P. 44 Impact of the genocide trial on the Guatemalan justice system
Marco Antonio Canteo

Peru

- P. 49 Transitional Justice in Post-Conflict Peru: Progress and Setbacks in Accountability Efforts
Jo-Marie Burt

- P. 55 Barrios Altos: The Failed Attempt to Reverse Justice
Carlos Rivera

Uruguay

- P. 58 Procedural Rights and the Obligation to Investigate and, Where Appropriate, Prosecute and Punish the Perpetrators of International Crimes: The Example of Uruguay
Jorge Errandonea

Judicial independence and pre-trial detention

- P. 63 Pre-trial Detention and Legal Culture
Luis Pásara